

Reflection questions

1. How visible are the five strategies in your state's monitoring and review of district strategic plans?
2. How could your state embed these five strategies into your annual monitoring and review process?
3. Based on district data, which of your districts have one or more of these strategies as bright spots that could be highlighted and scaled?
4. Based on district data, which of your districts have one or more of these strategies as challenges that could be supported with targeted resources?
5. What additional feedback and data could be collected from districts for implementing, integrating, and sustaining high-quality instructional materials and aligned professional learning?
6. How will the analysis of evidence inform the design of next year's review and monitoring plan for all districts?